Trustee in Bankruptcy, MAYO SALVAGE CORPORATION, Auctioneers,

over the ground yesterday morning. He said there was no reason to believe that the fire had been caused by any defect in the electric wiring. The fire seems to have originated in the upper part of the Hunter McGuire annex, in which was the operating room. That annex, said Mr. Speights, had been carefully wired in the most approved conduit system, and should be as safe as any electrical installation.

Several months ago insurance inspectors objected to some of the wiring in the Virginia Hospital, and that building and the John Pope Annex were rewired throughout and have been recently inspected and approved.

SERIES OF RECITALS
AT THE UNIVERSITY [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Charlottesville, Va., January 6.—A series c. organ recitals will be given on Sun Jay afternoon in Cabell Hall, at the University of Virginia, on the celebrate. Carnegie organ. These recitals Legislation conferring powers in the direction of enforcement of the State's public health laws was considered yesterday at the meeting of the legislative committee of the State Board of Health. Lack of power to compel the observance of the State Board of Health. Lack of power to compel the observance of the State laws affecting health has caused a demand for more positive legislation.

Just what laws the committee favors has not been completed, but it is understood that more definite systems of registrations of cases of communicable diseases, penalties for wanton exposure of affected subjects, and suitable punishments for disregard of laws and ordinances covering the maintenance of santiary premises are to be provided.

Another matter which may be the subject of legislation is the oyster industry. Planters who own or operate infected plantbeds have shown readingers in every instance to co-operate with the State health authorities in curing unsatisfactory conditions. In fact, the wishes of the Board of Health have been so generally followed as to bring declarations from the board of bring declarations from the board of bring declarations from the board of the state of t

Wing Is Menace to Virginia Hospital,

Building Inspector Beck went over the ruins of the University College of Medicine yesterday morning, and after examination ordered the immediate removal of the standing portion of the wast wall, which he considered a menace to the Virginia Hospital adjoining. The street has been fenced off ground the burned building. From his examination Mr. Beck is of the opinion that the college building is a complete loss, except for the foundations, as the standing portions of the walls have been greatly weakened, and will have to be removed.
